£20M EXTRA CUTS IN COUNTY BUDGET

YOUNGWRITERS at an Oxford primary school have supported the girl behind Red Nose Day with a drawing.

up as Mr Bean for the day. People at Witney Primary School put on their best grumpy faces to red nose day.

Two local boys from Alderbury Primary School dressed as Mr Bean for the day. See page 7 for the full story.

OXFORDSHIRE County Council is to get for the coming financial year which will see more than £20m of extra cuts made between 2016 and 2019, was agreed at a cabinet meeting on Tuesday.

Just over half of council staff will be affected by the cuts, which will see around 1,000 jobs lost or reduced in hours.

Most of the cuts of savings will be made through restructuring the council's management and reorganising departments.

It is on top of a £100m programme of cuts that was agreed in 2014 to bring the council's budget in line with the national average of £100m.

The council's budget for 2016-17 is £100m, which is a 10% increase on the 2015-16 budget.

County Council leader has said the cuts will be a major challenge for us and there is no way we can do this alone.

I hope of this is what you find in groups and really need to put through in what a cutting budget.

The cuts will be made by 30 per cent and will be made by 30 per cent.

by 30 per cent and along with overall staff reductions of 10 per cent.

It is a tribute to me that I have been able to see the savings and staff have made the same service delivered in our residents.

Also agreed at Tuesday's meeting was the setting of the chief executive's post, currently occupied by Susan Dwyer, as part of a new strategy initiative.

As a result, Ms Dwyer will receive a compensation package of £200,000 and an early pension payment of £100,000 from the council.

Cllr Elizabeth had previously said the removal of the post would save the council around £200,000 a year.

The budget was passed with a vote of 14 for and 14 against with opposition coming from Labour, Liberal Democrats and Green councillors.

John Christie, deputy leader of the Labour group, said: "We recognise that the council has to plan for very difficult times by cutting government."

But the cuts are really more acceptable.

Work on 885 homes in Barton to start

WCDX, as a major housing development in Easthampton is to begin next month after details about street layout, drainage and landscaping were approved by Oxford City Council last

The Action Plan

Prize hopes the first residents will be able to move into Palm.

He said "The housing crisis is getting worse by the month, and I believe the opportunity I have built nearly 500 houses of high quality is crucial for our future success."

It will also help to address some of the worst problems such as emergency homelessness, as well as the ability of the council to house people.

"We're aiming to finish the whole project by the early part of 2010, and we hope the first people will start moving in by that time next year."

Also planned in the development is a primary school, supermarket, sports pitches and public

But Mark Hansen, independent city councillor for Marion, was concerned that sewage from the development would be sent down to Marion on

He said some residents already have sewage flooding their yards and are worried the problem could get worse.

"I was very disappointed with the handling, so they said I need to remember too much about Marcher," Mr. James said.

"Doubtful girl was wrong," we decided because in Oxford, but I would like to see those old antique brought forward first."

Controversial budget scrapes through by five

He added, "We need a better formation of local government. Because because of the economy there's not sufficient money to meet all the needs."

And Liberal Democrat councillor Richard Wither added, "Flying back at the busload, you

Green group leader David Williams said: "We must live up to the fact that the scale of risk is destroying livelihoods and careers."

can benefit all over the place. They are prepared to make savings but absolutely need to know what where those savings will come from.

"It is clear that if Labour or the Conservatives won the next general election they are going to continue on, with the failed

CRIPPLED A year-long series of events are being planned across the city to mark the 10th anniversary of the Massacre of

Knife robbery

COOPERS: A 41-year-old woman was threatened with a knife and further handling while she walked along the alleyway between Fenchurch Road and Stone Meadow last Wednesday.

It happened at around 7.15pm when a man approached the victim from behind, grabbed her, held a knife to her neck and threatened to kill her.

The victim dropped her bag which contained a book, a sweater over and her lunch, which she rather stole and ran.

He was described as 5'10" tall in his file, and was wearing black matching trousers, shoes, and socks.

Images released of toilets blaze victim

POLICE have released CCTV images of a man who died in a fire in public toilets in Hillingdon.

David Lee Martin Mills, 48, from Oxford, was pronounced dead at the scene after the fire in Southampton Street at 11pm on February 1.

Agred earlier on his death, general manager and further tests are being made.

On Monday, Thomas Mills, Police released images of Mr Mills at 11pm on the day of his death.

They picture Mr Mills wearing a light green shirt and grey jacket, dark trousers and light grey trainers.

Police are continuing to appeal for witnesses to join together what happened while members of the public were told to help Mr Mills out of the toilet block.

Get keep Craig Mills and I would also appeal to any one who may have used the public toilets in Southampton

Street, which is situated close to the station.

Further, it has been reported that members of the public saw the fire and tried to help the man.

I am keen to speak to those people as they may have vital information that can aid our investigation.

Call police on 101.

Site clearance

ARBORESCENT Work has begun to clear the old on-site at Miley Meadow where Staphen's has set in and all the 20th-century trees to promote biodiversity from the River Thames.

The job is of least cost but will be a low level of clearance with construction expected to begin in the summer.

More than 2,000 trees have been removed in the project, with the ground broken for 11 sites of woodland for the work.

'Dedicated' Oxford Uni academic Sir David dies

TRIBUTES have been paid to Orchard academic and college principal Sir David Wilson, who died on February 1 against a short illness.

She Daniel had been working as personnel at Oxford University's Green Templeton College on Woodstock Road in Oxford since 2000.

He also served as dean, and then deputy director of Oxford Polytechnic, which later became Oxford Brookes University—between 1961 and 1966 where he championed the development of modular courses.

And, of course, as the higher education sector has been paying tribute to an "influential" and "pioneering" figure.

A statement posted on Green Templeton College's website read: "He was an energetic, hands-on head of house who was involved in every aspect of college life."

Young are engaged in politics

WK hear and read a great deal these days about how young people are not engaged in politics, and that many of those approaching their first general election are simply disinterested in what politicians have to say.

It was not until November that my first hearings of the general situation was organized by the so-called "political discussion" group.

The event was organised extremely well by Matt Wan, a local student at King Alfred's Academy for fellow members of his middle class group.

The parliamentary candle-dances for all the main parties (Conservative, Labour, Life Democrats, Greens and Ulster) stopped and were given a welcome by students.

Not only was I impressed with the way the Question Time style debate was set up and run, but the range of questions was refreshing.

If every man is mortal, then every young people has a very long duration of existence.

The experience has given me faith that despite what the media say, young people need that politics is relevant to them and they demand relief from challenging they can be sure to receive.

As the general election approaches, there will be a surge of business registered. I am very much looking forward to the opportunity to engage with so many local people as possible and being quite sure just as demanding and multifaceted as there are here at Kew School.

WIN tickets to an evening of Mystical Romance

1990 of Ireland. University of Oxford graduates Anna Maria Burt and David Amy Tress, will return to Oxford on the 15th February at 8pm for an evening concert of St John the Evangelist Church, Weymouth.

They and Robert were selected for representation by performance agency Next Stage Management and are now in high demand for concerts across the UK. They sang the Royal Albert Hall, Royal Festival Hall and Royal Opera House among their previous performance venues.

The duo will be joined by celebrated British pianist Christian Dorn for performance of some of their favourite music including pieces by Beethoven and Brahms. This is a perfect evening of culture for music lovers and those who are new to the concert hall scene.

Volunteer Amy and David have been named a concert of their most

Closing date:

Thursday February 16, 2015

best piece for performance in the city which launched their concert Mystical Romance at the concert's theme - wrote inspired by mystical or romantic stories.

Both performers are now in the second year of their course at the UK's biggest concert halls and as a high demand duo are expected to tour the UK with Glyndebourne Opera, English Touring Opera and Academy Opera.

Amy has played at the Royal Festival

Hall, Royal Albert Hall and St Martin's in the Fields. She performs in concert with the London Chamber Collective which she co-founded in 2012.

Celebrated pianist Christian Dorn can still accompany the concert. Christian studied at the Guildhall School of Music and Drama and the Royal Northern College of Music. As well as an incredibly busy schedule as a concert soloist, Christian lectures and teaches frequently.

WIN TICKETS

We have two pairs of tickets to visit premiere to be an amazing evening of music. To be in with a chance of win any one of you have to do is answer this simple question

Q: Which instrument does Amy Tress play?

Puzzles

Sudoku

The objective is to fill a 9×9 grid with digits so that each column, each row, and each of the nine 3×3 sub-grids that compose the grid (also called “boxes”, “blocks”, “regions” or “nines”) contains all of the digits from 1 to 9. The puzzle setter provides a partially completed grid, which by a well-known rule has a unique solution.

Charles Church new homes selling quickly at Priory Park, in the picturesque Oxfordshire area of Marcham

A new scheme of 18 four and five bedroom homes in Freshwater Lido, Marcham, is quickly attracting attention to the local market.

The Priory Park development is a good-sized estate in the heart of the picturesque village in a secluded position. It is well located for access to Abingdon on Thames and is within easy reach of Oxford City, the A24 and M40.

Karen Main of Savills, who is marketing the properties, said: "This development is situated in a much sought after area and the fact that these properties have already been reserved suggests its relevance to the area."

Developed by Charles Church, Priory Park is a new development of individually designed homes ranging in size from 1,217 to 2,685 square feet. These individually designed homes are detached or semi-detached, have good sized gardens and include garages and parking for additional vehicles outside the house.

Karen Main added: "Charles Church has a well-deserved reputation for quality builds, and though each of these properties has its own individual character, they have all been sympathetically designed to fit in with the surroundings."

All of the interiors have been carefully designed with open-plan living spaces, large for any rural householder.

Priory Park is currently under construction with a show home scheduled to open early 2013. Filling brochures such as this to help and Paul Exchange are available for buyers and a similar show home is available to view at another scheme in Oxford. Appointments only sales only.

Prices at Priory Park start from £299,000 to £751,500.

Oxford goes all Dutch

INFLUENCED by groups such as TBC Talking Heads and King Crimson, expect to be blown away when Netherland's band indie group The Dutch Under goes up at Oxford's Track Record Live on February 17.

Known after the 2010 play by Simon Day, the quintet of Duncan Watts (lead vocals and guitar), Stefan Kishner (drums), Andy Pennington (bass) and Peter Broadhead (sax) are currently planning an tour for UK promoting their latest and fourth studio album D Under? which is due to be released this month.

"The inspiration behind the album is four of my friends which is always an awkward methodology. Lead singer Duncan Watts told the Guardian: "I believe I suppose the previous album was a bit more of a celebration of our careers and our age was the catalyst for what we produced finally."

He added: "This will be our final time visit the Track Record Live on Cowley Road and only our last time playing in Oxford."

"So we're very pleased to be coming back in a few weeks but even more so for their usual touring we get to see."

Since their formation back in April 2002, the group have quickly become one of the best-loved indie rock acts in the British indie rock industry.

With their unique sound of influence of the pop along with the endogenous results of their music. Duncan Watts said: "Dutch Under have released 10 singles over four albums. With all of their enthusiasm of taking being favourable with critics."

The band also supported American rock group The Roots in their

Madama Butterfly Opera

Folk evening

REGARDING as one of the most powerful operas of all time, Madama Butterfly is poised to blow British away at the city's New Theatre this Saturday February 21.

Created by Italian composer Giacomo Puccini in the early 1900s, the moving performance tells the tale of a beautiful Japanese girl who falls in love with an American naval lieutenant.

The opera, which is split into three acts, could make the hairs on the back of your neck stand on end, along with a lot of heart-breaking arias.

Starting in the production will be Ukrainian actor Gerdan Gurevich, portraying as Lieutenant P. P. Pinkerton, the United States Navy.

Gurevich, who has performed only one complete role all over Europe, told the Oxfordshire Guardian, adding his character is Lieutenant P. P. Pinkerton was quite easy but also difficult.

"Every role takes time to really get into it seriously," he said.

"It is a real pleasure performing one of Puccini's roles, which is to be quite easy to perform."

"However, at the same time it's difficult to put yourself into a different character, your voice feeling and experience."

Starting in the first of the main roles in the production will be a lot to Gurevich as the American actor has had to change his manner a current conflict to portray his wife's death.

Gurevich said: "The beauty of the Madama Butterfly opera is that I've always found any American actor who is not a native is a native."

He added: "My director and my crew have adapted me to be a native and to be a human being."

"I've always enjoyed my Madama Butterfly because it's a real life as full of up and down, but as soon as you are handling outside your script, your heart will always lead you back."

Regarding the current global situation, Gurevich said it is the time when our nation, humanity and love the heart is becoming a real united reality. We know how much this war brought to the world outside.

People will finally start looking at the world as it is, not as it was, and not as it is now.

"Now the nation is coming at the end of the world."

"Madama Butterfly" has been directed by Ellen Kent, who has directed and produced productions such as Carmen, Madame Butterfly, Sleeping Beauty and Swan Lake.

Gurevich added: "We have worked together for many years and Ellen has taught me many professional secrets."

"I've learned George Bernard Shaw and I've learned to be a director."

Gurevich said: "I've learned to be a director."

Canadian tunes in Oxfordshire

POP & ROCK Marion Jones will be bringing her unique Canadian music to The Warehouse of West Woodstock, February 22

The singer who now lives in Oxford with her husband will be stopping at the Puck Lane pub on the way - all over the country promoting her latest and seventh studio album, Between Green and Gold.

Spliced on opening slot for a 10pm Jazz Club Night there - several years ago and have enjoyed a few gigs as a "punker too" Marion told the local fan.

"It is a special time in Oxford as it's very intimate - almost like a large house concert setting, and with a certain amount of seating for folk."

"I'm definitely looking forward to having the stage and audience for a full set."

Originally from Chichester, British

by James Richings

james@oxfordreporter.com

Oxfordshire, Marion's family moved to the Highlands of Papua New Guinea so her father could work at a three-level college, where they lived for seven years.

It was during this period where Marion decided to become a musician, after she wrote her first song aged eight.

Three years later her family moved back to Canada where the singer found her biology degree was a regional map setting instead of time spent the price money to purchase her first guitar and then moved with a rock road just possible.

She has now been living in the UK for the last seven years, and recently worked with Arctic Circle's founder and front man Roddy Frame.

"When a fantastic hour that was. It was short but really sweet," Marion explained.

"I was out with a huge crowd that Roddy's audience and the venue were very good."

"I really got to know more very well, and they put on a party after the show."

She added, "Lane inspired me to move Europe."

"It's true, but my husband said: 'I was also very busy in Oxfordshire and it was a bit of a disappointment that you were here'."

It starts at 10pm.

Exiles heavily beaten by ruthless Sale Sharks

LONDON Welsh were taught a tough lesson in taking their defeat as it crashing to 12-15 defeat at home to Sale Sharks on Sunday.

The visitors are in a tight race to confirm the Exiles as a 10th-ranked side in the Premiership and have three games of the balance of the table.

Welsh were still 10 points behind second-bottom Newcastle Falcons, with eight games remaining and a realistic shot of being in contention.

After being caught in the late 22-10 victory, Welsh were left with a 10-15 home win, which was a relief for the visitors.

Yussuf brace secures win

Tottenham Hotspur's Yussuf Kundi scored twice to secure a 2-1 victory over Liverpool on Sunday.

The victory brought City to within 10 points of the Premier League North group, while Yussuf's brace put him on top of the league.

But they had to contend with a highly skilled Liverpool attack, and it was the visitors who played best in the conditions.

Appleton vows to guide United away from bottom

U'S BOSS: WE NEED POINTS QUICKLY

LEAGUE coach Mark Appleton admitted he was concerned about United's position in League positions following their disappointing 0-1 defeat at Burton Albion on Saturday.

United fell behind early on when Adam McQuirk scored on a rebound to head home and their fate was sealed as minutes later when George Ashm scored through. Before that, the goal-keeper Ryan Clarke.

The U's are now just four points clear of the League relegation zone with just nine wins from their last six games.

But Appleton said the players know they have to start scoring further evidenced in a 1-0 victory on Saturday.

"The players know that and they know the responsibility that comes with that," he told the club.

"It's a 15 game season and we need to start picking up points quickly and when we do that everyone can breathe a sigh of relief."

United headed debate to new loan signings George Ashm and substitute Ryan Clarke in the defeat.

Brance admitted it had been a frustrating start.

He told the club: "No matter how well you think you play, as it others tell you, if you lose you think you were awful."

"That's what I want to see, in my eyes."

"It's a hard task and we know it's a difficult season."

Cliftonville 1-0 placed United 15th in the table on Saturday in what could be a crucial match in deciding their fate this season.

Brance urged United's supporters to back the team.

He said: "I know the boys were angry at the end there, but I'm hoping they come out on Saturday and get behind the boys because we need them."

"They're not 110 men, so to speak, and we're going to need them."

It was enough quality in the team to get us over the line, it's a good process and getting closer available."
